Competition rules / seeding list / knockout system

- First round races are drawn by lot by the organiser at the event date.
- Winners and fastest bikers directly qualify for the second round.
- Then races take place according to a knockout system. Second round seeding list based on the times cycled. This means that the slowest biker competes with the fastest biker.
- From the second round a race will be decided as soon as you are outrun by your opponent in seven laps. The winner of the running must finish the full distance, the time needed is the basis for the seeding list of the next round.
